Guy LeBas

Chief Fixed Income Strategist

Guy LeBas is Janney Montgomery Scott's Chief Fixed Income Strategist. Mr. LeBas joined Janney in 2006 as part of efforts to improve the Firm's penetration into the fixed income markets across all sectors. In his role as strategist, he works closely with Financial Consultants in providing customized investment strategies for a range of institutional and ultra high net worth individuals.

While all strategies are based on individual client needs, Mr. LeBas takes a "relative value" approach to fixed income investing, starting with an overview of current and likely future economic conditions and ending with an analysis of issuer-specific factors. This approach allows Janney to create "model portfolios" which effectively and efficiently help clients in meeting their investment goals. In addition to his work for clients, Mr. LeBas authors in-depth economic and bond market periodicals and provides relative value recommendations across the fixed income spectrum.

Mr. LeBas received his education at Swarthmore College and the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business and is now a Candidate in the prestigious CFA® program.
